MANCHESTER OFFICE 1226 HULL STREET. TUESDAY..... APRIL 12, 1892.

Our Electric-Light Plant-It was an English stage-setter and rain-maker who complained that somebody had "stolen his thunder." He complained in vain. Let not the people of Richmond be caught in this unpleasant predicament. If we let our electricity pass from us now—and the action of the Board of Aldermen last night suggests that possibility—we reayery our eyes out hereafter and still see ults beneficial to the city as a city.

It is the first step that costs. If Richmond establishes not an electric plant and lights her own streets, she will always possess an electric plant. If she neglects one to do so, she will never hereafter have the opportunity to perform her duty in this matter. If Richmond begins now to pre-pare the plant, and finishes it as soon as possible, she will control her own electriclighting as she now controls her water works and her gas-lighting. But if for any reason she turns a deaf ear to her public-spirited citizens who even now can foresee what is coming and can forecast her future, she will be controlled by the electric plant, which she will so unwisely have turned over to hands other than her own. It will be too late to correct the evil after the outsiders have secured possession of this valuable property. If Richmond plays the part of Parley the Porter, and hands the keys to the besiegers who ply her with inducements almost irre-sistible, she will surely repent soon her treachery to her own people, and wish in vain for the power to bar and bolt her doors as they were barred and bolted be-fore she listened to the voice of the

This is no new question. It came up years ago in the shape of a proposition to sell the gas-works. It is based upon the assumption that a corporation or company of men can furnish as good light as the city furnishes, pocket a large profit, and still charge us no more for lighting our streets and our houses than we now pay. Why anybody should be misled into supposing that light-speculators will operate in the interest of anybody but themselves we cannot imagine. Let the said speculators be amongst the best and most high-toned even of our own citizens, and they will ook, as it is natural and proper for them to look, to their own interests. The city must take care of her own interests.

We might as well as not recognize the fact that the people everywhere are beginning to understand that natural monopo in the New York Nation several years ago that in England some of these natural mothem. The city of Cincinnati is even now considering a proposition to spend mil-lions of her money in order that she may have the ownership of one of these natu-

them and the men therein employed over to a company, this company in turn to literature of this great enterprise, and we use its power to control the city? We have nowhere seen articles that treat the have water works. Who would turn them subject better or that more intelligently and the men therein employed over to a company? We need electric-lights. Shall we turn the furnishing of them over to a company, and have gas-works employees and water-works employees at loggerheads with electric-light employees in regard to wages, voting. bossing, and what distinction in the West and farther corners If the electric-light plant is turned over to a private corporation it will soon be numbered amongst the opponents of city-lighting. It will fight for its life. It will If he could manage to provide ham effort to prevent Richmond from making her own gas. Let the city fathers remember that in this matter it is "now or sample our product. never." Delay means defeat. A beginning, however small, means ultimate suc-cess, and a success which will prove to be as grand as that which has crowned our efforts in behalf of city gas and city water. We must not look behind, like Lor's wife. We must rather, unlike her, look shead to the humble beginning, which we must content ourselves with. Let us have electric lights "of the people, by the people,

Hundreds of people in Virginia are tor-menting themselves and the newspapers and the State authorities about "the delay" in distributing the direct tax.

And yet it appears from official sources, as set forth in Sunday's Disparce, that the average amount which claimants in this Those who hope to become rich from this windfall are therefore doomed to disappointment.

As for "the delay" it is clearly explained that it is caused by the sagacious dete mination of the State authorities to find out to whom the money is due before pay-ment of it is begun. However, claimants arse of two or three months.

ing to retire from the chairmanship of the Republican Committee of Virginia. We rather fancy that he would like to have "one more chance"; but if after the No-wember election he finds that the Democrats have won, or that Harmson has been re-elected and is still disinchined to recog-mize him, then he may ask for leave to re-tire to the umbrageous repose of unofficial life.

Mr. P. B. Wirston, one of the delegates-at-large from Minnesota to the Democratic National Convention, is a native of Han-over county. Va. He has amassed a large fortune and is now mayor of Minne-apolis, and is mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Gov-ernor of Minnesota.

Worthless Doss

It is better that dogs-even ind dogs-should die than that men, w ald run any risk of the or children should run any risk of the most frightful of all diseases.

In olden times here in Richmond we had dog-catchers, who at irregular and unexpected intervals appeared upon the streets and netted all dogs that did not wear metal license-tags attached to their collars, and many worthless curs were thus catched to the result to and many worthless curs were thus lars, and many worthless curs were thus caught up and were subsequently killed.

The dog-catchers no longer appear here, and the consequence is that there are thousands of worthless curs in the city making the nights hideous by growling, howling, and barking, and adding, also, to the "mat-dog scare." It is bad enough to have to suffer danger and annoyance from licensed dogs, but it is a positive outrage to make the publisher victim of these unlicensed and oftentimes homeless and masterless curs.

If the dog-catching law is in force it

If the dog-catching law is in force it should be executed. If it has been re-pealed it should be again enacted. Let us have peace-at night, at least.

The Governor's Powers. We must say that Judge Portlock hardly treated Governor McKinner with the respect which was due to him as the head of this old Commonwealth. We are confident that the Governor wrote his letter to Judge Portlock without any intention to reflect upon him or any of the authorities of his county. His letter seems to us to be nothing more than a friendly request from one State official who had not investigated the matter or studied the subject to another State official who had studied the subject. The Constitution of Virginia provides that the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the State Govenment shall be separate and distinct, so that neither shall exercise the powers properly belonging to either of the others. It also provides that no person shall exercise the power of more than one of these at the same time green, as a residual of the same time green. at the same time except as provided in that instrument. Nevertheless, it is the Governor's duty to take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and if they are to be executed at all it must be by the officers intrusted with their execution.

Our Convention.

It is true, as the Staunton Vinducator says, that Hon. MARSHALL HANGER would make a good chairman for the Richmond convention. So would Speaker CARDWELL, of Hanover, and Hon. HENRY R. POLLARD, late of King and Queen county but now of this city. And we are by no means disposed to overlook the qualifications of "Cyclone" JIM MARSHALL, of Craig, who presided over the convention which nominated our present Governor.

In fact, we have many men capable of presiding over a large State convention. The truth is that the task is not so difficult as it looks to be. The delegates often get excited, but are rarely unruly. Frequently a dozen wish to talk at once, but the eleven who are unrecognized will quietly submit if they have confidence in the fairness and capacity of the chairman, who should have self-possession, knowledge of parliamentary rules, and plenty of lung and gavel power.

Let Those Who Elect Select. The New York World says that the "States which cannot contribute any electoral votes should resolutely put aside their own preferences so far as to let the States that elect select " the Democratic nominee for President. Correct and good.

"The candidate must be one who can surely carry New York, New Jersey. Connecticut, and Indiana. The votes of those States are absolutely necessary to the election of a Democratic President," it adds, and speaks truly, but the votes of the southern States are also necessarv. In other words, it will not do to assume that any man on any platform can carry Aies ought not to be controlled—certainly the southern States. Judge Staples, in not wholly controlled—by anybody except his interview published in the DISPATCH of themselves or their servants. It was shown | Sunday, pointed out the danger of any such assumption. The South should be considered as well as New York, New Jernopolies were being bought back by the sey, Connecticut, and Indiana, and the rest

The Chicago Exposition people want Congress to issue a Columbian medal half dollar to be used for admission at the fair in place of printed tickets. They argue that it would be less easy to counterfeit than tickets and would be valuable as a sourceir of the exposition. And they say that this issue would also relieve the silver question to the extent of about $10,000,000, for they can easily use 20,000,000 of them.

The New Orleans papers publish Senator DANIEL's oration in full, and in their editorial and local columns both speak of it as a grand effort. He seems to have de-lighted his audience and to have added to his wide-spread reputation for eloquence.

In the judgment of the Petersburg Index-Appeal the CLEVELAND boom is steadily collapsing. It observes that he gets few delegates except from States "conceded to be reliably and irrevocably Republican in presidential elections."
